NEW YORK, July 2.—The steamer Bremen, from Bremerhaven, and City of Cork arrived at this port to-day. The Cork brings London dates to the 23d, or one day later than those received by the Atlantic.

The Bremen also brings London dates to the 23d.

The Cork has encountered heavy weather during the trip, and reports having passed a number of vessels dismasted.

The Bremen has encountered no Lord Dundreary's monument, but has passed a number of vessels dismasted.

The Prussians have taken the Minister of State and his Minister of War, prisoners, and sent the latter to Berlin under escort.

The Prussian Army succeeded in joining the Austrian army at Frankfort, and the combined forces offered a battle to the Federal Army on the 22d, which was accepted, and the battle commenced.

The Prussian Army succeeded in joining the Austrian army at Frankfort, and the combined forces offered a battle to the Federal Army on the 22d, which was accepted, and the battle commenced.

The Austrians were defeated in the battle, and the Prussians occupied Frankfort.

The Prussians continued to fortify themselves at Frankfort, and had repulsed the Federal troops.

Vienna papers assert that the Saxon army of 40,000 men, which was disbanded by the Prussians, is concentrating in the vicinity of Frankfort, and will join the Austrians
